

TRAVELING THE WAY OF JESUS: A BIBLICAL JOURNEY

Hoping to get a better understanding of how Lutherans understand scripture, and how scripture can apply to your life? Here's a study that opens up deeper conversations, and connects faith and the Bible to current issues in our lives and the church.

The sessions in this Bible study are written so that the first three sessions build on one another, and it is most helpful if you are able to attend all four sessions. Sessions one through three develop tools for Lutheran Biblical interpretation. The fourth session applies these tools to reflect on how scripture speaks to us today.

January 16, 23, 30 &
February 6 - 7:00 p.m.

Online via Zoom
Registration: Free

Hearts Across the Heartland, a ministry partner and LGBTQIA+ social justice team for the synod, is currently co-led by Rev. Meagan McLaughlin and Rev. Andrew C. Patty. This group was formed in 2019 by Kansas City ELCA members and congregations and has become a bi-monthly zoom fellowship of those interested in creating a more inclusive church.

Session One: What's the Word?

- Connect to a Lutheran understanding of the Word.

Session Two: What Does the Word Say?

- Use tools to deepen scriptural interpretation.

Session Three: God's Word is Love

- Explore scripture through the lens of Jesus.

Session Four: What Does this Mean?

- Apply communal scripture interpretation to current issues.

Register online at www.css-elca.org/lab

